GUATEMALA

UNDERGRAD NURSING COMMUNITY / POPULATION HEALTH CLINICAL EXPERIENCE

Undergraduate nursing students will experience the reality of caring for people in a low-resource setting during this clinical experience. Students will partner with Guatemalan colleagues working in and around the Trifinio clinic. This clinic is a CU affiliate which was developed to support a multidisciplinary model for clinical practice, education and research. Students will have opportunities to work alongside the Trifinio staff as they make home visits, provide prenatal care, and community health educational programs. Students will learn strategies to effectively advocate on behalf of patients, families, and underserved people to challenge policies that create health disparities.

COURSE (2.5 credits)
